SHEBS

Shebs is an award-winning travel writer, broadcaster, Podcaster, and Co-Executive Producer.

He is a BGTW Broadcaster of the Year Finalist.

Shebs is currently the host of a travel show on the Islam Channel, which airs on UK TV on Sky, Virgin Media and Freeview. He is also Co-Executive Producer for the Award-winning television docuseries on PBS, 'Fly Brother with Ernest White II'. He has worked on the radio and has hosted a breakfast show on Africa's first and only dedicated travel radio station, Gallivant Radio.

His podcast, Take a Wander with Shebs, has received international acclaim for his production and hosting ability. He has been featured for his work on the BBC, The Times, The Express, Travel Magazine, and Marriott Bonvoy, to name a few.

Shebs is a Director of Voyagers Voice, a travel magazine, where he is responsible for creating revenue, commissioning new writers, and being an editor & writer.

Shebs contributed to an upcoming book for the British Guild of Travel Writers, which will be published by Bradt.

After obtaining a degree in Fine Art, specialising in videography & photography, Shebs battled his way through the last ten-plus years to get into this position, having worked in numerous sectors such as sales, corporate and hospitality.

Shebs has become a respected voice for the travel industry, understanding all forms of travel far better than many others. He chooses to thoroughly immerse himself in its development and growth and take the industry to another level.
